Assignment

Unit I: Introduction to Entrepreneurship

1. Define entrepreneurship and explain its importance in modern economic development with suitable examples.
2. Explain the terms startup, enterprise, entrepreneurial attitude, entrepreneurial intention, and entrepreneurial behavior with real-life examples.
3. Compare entrepreneurship and employment on the basis of risk, income, responsibility, growth opportunities, and work culture.
4. Describe different types of entrepreneurs and explain the key characteristics of each type.
5. Explain the enterprise lifecycle and discuss the challenges faced at each stage of the lifecycle.
6. Discuss the role of entrepreneurship in job creation and innovation, and explain the major challenges faced by entrepreneurs in Nepal.
7. "An entrepreneur is a problem solver and opportunity creator." Justify this statement with practical examples.
8. Explain why entrepreneurial mindset is necessary for students and how it helps in professional career opportunities.

Unit II: Creativity, Innovation and MVP

1. Explain the concepts of creativity, innovation, and opportunity recognition with suitable examples.
2. Discuss the main sources of new business ideas and explain any three tools used for idea generation.
3. Differentiate between product innovation, process innovation, and business model innovation with examples.
4. Explain the meaning of value proposition and discuss how it helps a startup attract customers and compete in the market.
5. Define minimum viable product (MVP) and explain why MVP is important in startup development.
6. Describe the step-by-step process of converting an idea into an MVP and improving it using customer feedback.
7. Explain how creativity and innovation help in solving customer problems and creating business opportunities.
8. "Innovation is successful only when it creates value for customers." Explain this statement with examples.

Unit III: Startup Foundational Analysis

1. Explain environmental analysis in entrepreneurship and discuss its importance for startup success.
2. Describe the entrepreneurship ecosystem and explain how it supports startups through finance, mentors, policies, and markets.
3. Discuss major entrepreneurship supports and barriers in Nepal with practical examples.

4. Explain how to identify competitors and differentiate between direct and indirect competitors with examples.
5. Discuss different sources of competitive advantage and how startups can build sustainable advantage in the market.
6. Explain market research and describe how to prepare a target customer profile for a new startup.
7. Define TAM, SAM, and SOM and explain how these help in market sizing with an example.
8. Explain the concept of Go-To-Market (GTM) strategy and prepare a simple GTM plan for a new startup idea.
9. Discuss branding and promotional strategies that can be used by early-stage startups to attract customers.
10. Explain business strategy development and write suitable vision and mission statements for any startup idea.
11. Explain SMART goals and create four SMART goals for a new startup business.
12. Discuss strategies for building a startup team and recruiting founders and early employees.
13. Explain revenue streams and cost structures with examples for any startup business model.
14. Describe key financial statements needed for future financial projections and explain their use in startups.
15. Explain seed capital, angel investment, and venture capital, and compare them in terms of funding stage and investor expectations.

Unit IV: Business Modeling, Planning and Pitching

1. Explain the concept of business canvas and discuss its role in startup planning and validation.
2. Differentiate between business model canvas, value proposition canvas, and lean canvas with suitable examples.
3. Explain the importance of business plan and how it helps in guiding startup growth and raising investment.
4. Describe the major contents of a successful business plan and explain why each section is important.
5. Explain the concept of business pitch and discuss the key elements required for a successful pitch presentation.
6. Discuss how business pitch contents differ for different stakeholders such as investors, customers, and partners.
7. Explain effective pitch delivery skills and how presentation style impacts the success of pitching.
8. “A strong pitch requires both strategy and storytelling.” Justify this statement with suitable examples.

Unit V: Ethics and Responsibilities for Professional Practice

1. Define professional ethics and explain why ethical behavior is important in engineering and IT professions.

2. Explain professional roles and responsibilities of engineers and IT professionals in workplace and society.
3. Define conflict of interest and explain how it affects professional decision-making with examples.
4. Explain whistleblowing and discuss when it is necessary and what consequences it may create.
5. Describe corporate social responsibility and explain how startups can practice CSR in early business stages.
6. Discuss the importance of code of conduct and explain key ethical guidelines of Nepal Engineering Council.
7. Compare IEEE and ACM code of ethics and explain how they guide professionals in responsible practice.
8. "Ethics is essential for building trust in technology." Explain this statement with examples related to privacy and security.

Unit VI: Legal Issues for Professional Practice

1. Explain intellectual property and discuss why IP protection is important for startups and IT businesses.
2. Differentiate between copyright, patent, design, trademark, and trade secrets with suitable examples.
3. Discuss common intellectual property issues and violations in the IT and software industry.
4. Explain the ICT policy of Nepal and discuss its importance for national digital development.
5. Describe the Electronic Transaction Act and explain its major provisions related to cybercrime and digital transactions.
6. Explain the Communication Act and discuss its role in regulating digital communication and media.
7. Explain the legal process of business registration in Nepal and list the major steps and required documents.
8. Discuss taxation and compliance requirements for startups in Nepal including PAN, VAT, and regular tax filing.
9. "Legal compliance helps startups avoid long-term risks and penalties." Justify this statement with suitable examples.